

ARMED FORCES DAY 2019

Armed Forces Day is an occasion for remembering the contributions of men and women, especially those of African and Caribbean heritage, who serve or have served Britain. Black soldiers were engaged alongside British combatants in almost every war during the past 400 years.

Saturday 29 JUNE 2019
5.30pm to 7.30pm

WASP Centre, 161 Clapham Manor
Street, London, SW4 6DB

(nearest Underground Station: Clapham Common)

Come along and hear the stories of veterans and those serving the nation. They include WWII RAF and Royal Navy serviceman Allan Wilmot and Vincent McBean. Keynote speaker Captain Julien Anani-Isaac RL has been a Troop Leader, an Aide-de-Camp to the Deputy Supreme Allied Commander (DSACEUR), a British 4* general at NATO and a squadron second-in-command on an operational tour to Cyprus.

The Q&A is led by Arthur Torrington CBE. Poetry by Stella B.

ADMISSION FREE - Tickets available from EVENTBRITE

For further information contact: equianosociety@gmail.com

Support from National Heritage Lottery Fund, The Equiano Society and West Indian Association of Service Personnel